Midterm Seminar Plan

Objective:

The purpose of the seminar is to provide feedback on the results of the work in the first iteration and create space for mutual inspiration.

Date and Venues:

The date and venues for the midterm seminar are to be provided in itslearning.

Responsibility and Attendance:

Each project group is responsible for presenting their project, and all participants are required to attend their own presentation. Each student is obligated to provide feedback to another project group by participating in a panel.

Content:

During the project seminar, project groups will present the results of the first iteration to the supervisors, Danfoss representatives and the students from other groups. The audience will provide feedback, advice, warnings, and potential solutions. The total time allocated is approximately 25-30 minutes per group.

1. Presentation (approximately 15 minutes)

2. Audience questions and feedback(approximately 5-10 minutes)

3. Supervisor's summary (approximately 3-5 minutes)

The project supervisor will oversee the process. The presentation should cover the following topics:

1. Project foundation

2. Requirements, analysis, and design

3. Implementation (Running code) completed during Sprints
